FLAVOUR WITH HISTORY

How can you combine the pleasure of good food, savour the freshness of an excellent Vinho Verde, breathe in history rich in national symbolism, and enjoy it all in a pure, natural setting? By visiting Guimarães – the Cradle of Portugal.

To truly get to know Portugal, you must start at the beginning. It was in Guimarães that the nation was born, and monuments such as the Castle and the Palace of the Dukes of Bragança are essential stops along the way.

This connection with history is inseparable from Guimarães' ability to honour its past, using it as a foundation to affirm itself in the present and the future. This symbiosis is evident in the recognition of its Historic Centre as a UNESCO World Heritage Site, which attracts thousands of visitors throughout the year.

Breathe in the history of a remarkable legacy while appreciating the cultural value of contemporary landmarks such as the José de Guimarães International Arts Centre, the Vila Flor Cultural Centre, and the Casa da Memória. The dynamism and quality of Guimarães' cultural calendar make it stand out on the European stage.

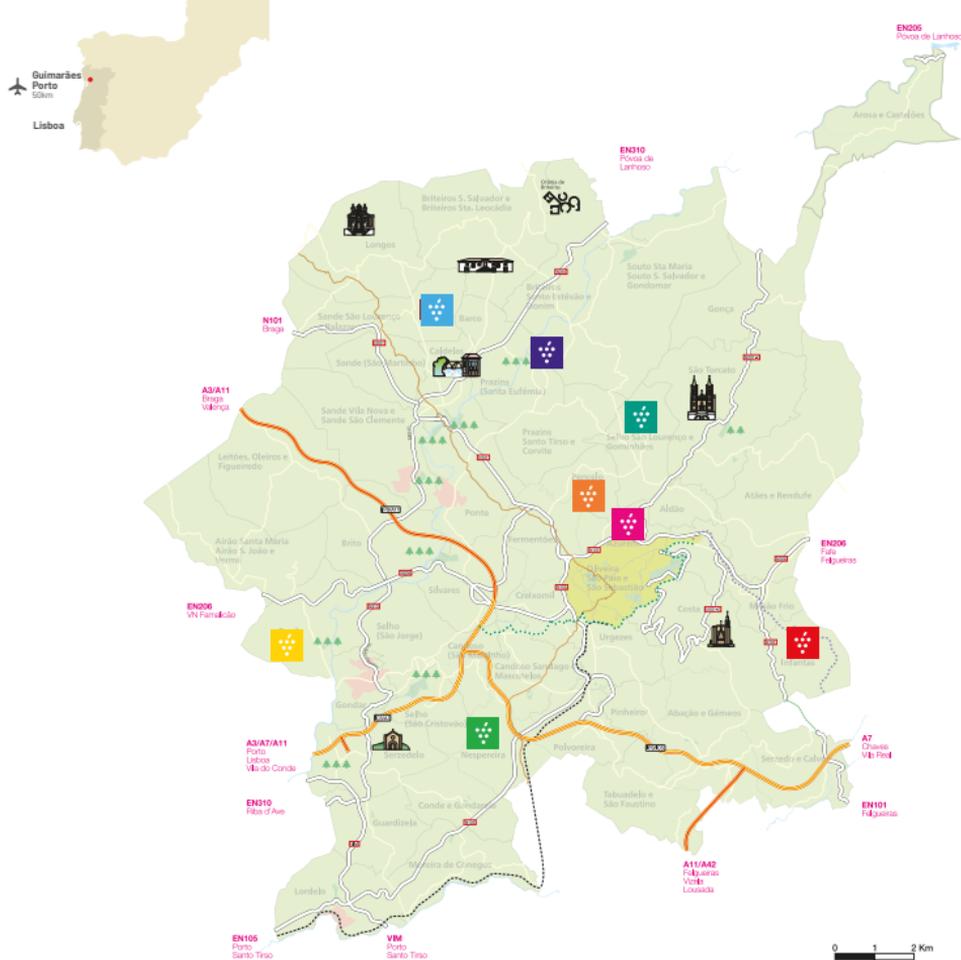

Upon arriving in Guimarães, embark on an adventure for the senses, starting with the magnificent view from Penha Mountain – a candidate to become a Local Protected Area. In Portugal's Cradle City, there is much to feel, smell, hear, see, touch and taste. The art of good cooking and fine dining is deeply rooted in this region, celebrated through traditional dishes, regional recipes and the typical sweets of Guimarães.

End your journey with a toast of Vinho Verde, enjoyed during a visit to one of the region's modern, centuries-old or family-run estates – where tradition and innovation in the cultivation and production of Vinho Verde lead you to a destination of excellence... the true taste of history.

Casa de Sezim

Casa de Sezim has been in the hands of the current owners' family since 1376, following a royal donation recorded on a parchment preserved in the Casa's archives. In that document, Maria Mendes Serrazinha granted the estate to Afonso Martins, a descendant of D. João Freitas, companion to King Fernando I of Portugal.

The beauty of the House, the harmony of its architecture, the monumentality of its façade, and the remarkable collection of panoramic wallpapers from the first half of the 19th century – displayed in its halls, the largest in the Iberian Peninsula – have in recent years attracted international interest and admiration.

Casa de Sezim's Vinho Verde wines were already highly esteemed in the Middle Ages, as mentioned in a document dating from 1396. Today, the estate continues a long-standing tradition of excellence, particularly in its white Vinho Verde wines made from carefully selected grapes. Production remains strictly limited and follows fully integrated production methods.

Quinta da Aveleira

The cultivated lands of Aveleira have been known since the time of King Dinis in the 14th century, mentioned in a petition by Pedro Colaço and his wife to the Chapter of Santa Maria de Guimarães. Its connection with illustrious families who have played an active role in our history continues to this day.

Over the centuries, Aveleira has grown and evolved alongside the changing phases of Portuguese agriculture, while preserving its long tradition of cultivating red grapes along the borders and the beautiful vines that frame the verdant fields. Today, Aveleira is owned by the Vieira e Brito family, who have renewed its four hectares of vineyards, combining modern production methods with traditional grape varieties of the Vinho Verde region – Loureiro, Arinto, Vinhão and Espadeiro. They have retained the estate's characteristic trellised landscapes and begun modernising the winery.

Set in a splendid manor house dating back to the 11th century, surrounded by green vineyards and camellias, we invite you to enjoy a moment of leisure and savour what is transformed with passion: wine.

Quinta do Ermízio

Quinta do Ermízio, named after Dominus Ermigius, steward of the court of King Afonso Henriques, stretches from the Vale do Ave across the hillside to Bouça do Saraiva, encompassing a variety of ecological niches. The Alvarinho, Loureiro and Trajadura grape varieties are cultivated using environmentally responsible techniques, controlling vine vigour and encouraging the gentle ripening of the grapes.

The harvest is carried out by hand, with meticulous selection of the bunches. Each plot and variety is picked at its optimal moment, ensuring the grapes are harvested at perfect ripeness. Vinification follows a minimalist philosophy, with minimal intervention in the cellar to preserve the character of the terroir.

The wines are distinct and refined – subtle on the nose yet marked by pronounced minerality and freshness on the palate. They age gracefully in the bottle and are best enjoyed slowly, alongside good food or in the company of good conversation.

Quinta Picouto de Cima

Quinta Picouto de Cima was acquired in 1997 by Albertino Rodrigues Ferreira and is located in the parish of Gominhães, in Guimarães, Portugal. This region is renowned for producing Vinho Verde wines that are truly unique in the world.

The land was carefully shaped and prepared for the planting of vineyards, and the first harvest, in 2003, gave rise to the Quinta Picouto de Cima Red and Rosé wines.

In 2012, with the aim of expanding production to include white Vinho Verde, Albertino Ferreira replanted the Loureiro, Alvarinho, Arinto and Fernão Pires grape varieties.

Three years later, in 2015, the first 'Quinta Picouto de Cima - Colheita Seleccionada' was produced, earning awards from its very first year of release.
